Tapping intoTheology

"There are presently seven African Americans with open causes for Canonization. While there is great diversity in their experiences, they share one thing in common. Their lives and their virtuous actions demonstrate how the love of Christ can shield the hearts of His faithful servants from bitterness and hatred, despite the cruelties and injustices they suffered."

Speaker: Deacon Clarence Johnson

"The Saintly Seven: Role Models of Charity and Forgiveness"

Tuesday, November 10, 2026 7-9pm

Dcn. Clarence Johnson is a Deacon in the Diocese of Colorado Springs. He presently serves as the Assistant Director for Permanent Diaconate Formation and is assigned to Corpus Christi Catholic Church. He was also appointed by His Excellency, Archbishop James Golka, to be the Spiritual Advisor to the Colorado Springs Council for Black Catholics. After graduating from the United States Air Force Academy, he served our country both as an active duty military officer and as a civil servant for more than 35 years. He hails from San Antonio, Texas and is married to Sheila Maguire, his wife of 22 years.
